A Broken Smile

by Sandy Trudel

My heart is weeping but there's nobody there
My smile is broken but there's no one to care.
I hide my shame and dignity in silent despair
The loneliness surrounds me but no one is aware.

Refrain

But everyone is trying – for them it's not the same.
All the causes pushing...there's just so much to gain.
How can I be heard with such a little voice?
There's got to be a way ...there's got to be a choice.

The pain is growing stronger and I can smile no more.
It moves within me looking for an open door.
Alone I seek some quiet, a break from all the stress
Maybe this strange giant will let me go with less.

Refrain

But everyone is trying – for them it's not the same.
All the causes pushing...there's just so much to gain.
How can I be heard with such a little voice
There's got to be a way ...there's got to be a choice.

Who is this new angel opening my mouth to love?
Treating all the issues from somewhere up above.
I feel the pain releasing and my shame just went away.
My heart is now so mending; I proudly smile each day.

Refrain

Cause everyone is trying – for them it's not the same.
All the causes pushing...there's just so much to gain.
How was I so heard with such a little voice?
There really is a way...there really is a choice.
